FRANK ROSENTHAL, the Las Vegas and Chicago gambler, again contacted [redacted] nd in addition, through his contacts, would have individuals who print football schedules in the country that are utilized by gamblers change the order of teams appearing on the schedules. This would do away with uniformity of schedules in the country.

[redacted] that if ROSENTHAL did this, the gambling industry would black-ball him forever. The informant stated that if ROSENTHAL could do this, it would be very damaging to gamblers in the country who telephone one another to obtain line information from various parts of the country. When obtaining a line from a New York gambling operation over the phone, the gambling operation will generally refer to the teams by numbers, and this saves considerable time and avoids any errors; therefore, if the schedules were not uniform, an individual would receive incorrect line information.

The informant stated that there are approximately three to four primary schedules in the country. One schedule is the Angel-Kaplan schedule, which comes out of Chicago, and is used generally by the bookmaking operations in the Midwest and South Central states. There is a schedule that comes out of the West Coast which is generally used in that area and in Las Vegas. There is another schedule that comes out of the East Coast, used generally in that area and parts of Florida. The state of Texas sometimes utilizes a local schedule coming out of Fort Worth.

PRESENT LEGAL STATUS

The following article dated December 27, 1968, appeared in the Miami News newspaper, Miami, Florida.

"JUDGE REOPENS CASE OF 'SANDWICH' BRIBE"

"Ex-sheriff's Lt. Milton Klein has been given another chance to fight for the job from which he was fired for allegedly accepting delicatessen sandwiches from gambler Frank "Lefty" Rosenthal in the county jail.

"The Third District Court of Appeal reversed Circuit Judge Gene Williams and held that Klein had not been afforded 'due process of law' during his appeal against his dismissal.

"Klein was fired by Sheriff Wilson Purdy in March, 1967, shortly after he allowed delicatessen sandwiches to be brought in especially for Rosenthal, who was serving a short sentence. Klein allegedly sat down and ate some of the sandwiches with Rosenthal.

"The Metro Personnel Advisory Board asked County Manager Porter Homer that Klein be reinstated to his old rank. But Homer disregarded the recommendation and upheld Klein's firing.

"The district court ruled that Klein was not given due process because the board had failed to forward its findings of fact and advisory opinion before submitting its recommendations to Homer."

Deputy Attorney General Kleindeinst attempted to reach me while I was en route home Friday night, 2/7/69. He left word for me to return his call after 10 p.m. that evening. Upon talking with him at 10:10 p.m., he asked that I meet him and Assistant Attorney General Ruckelhaus, Civil Division, at 8 a.m., Saturday morning, in his office. He desired to discuss the captioned case.

Upon seeing the Deputy Attorney General and Ruckelhaus Saturday morning, the question was raised as to the civil suit involving [redacted] who is the plaintiff and who is suing the Government as a result of a microphone being placed [redacted] in 1964. Actually, the microphone was placed on [redacted] Frank "Lefty" Rosenthal, a gambler, hoodlum, and an individual who had associates mixed up with jewel theft activities in the Miami area.

This is one of the few microphones ever placed in a private residence. This particular microphone produced valuable intelligence information concerning organized crime and jewel theft activities, in addition to certain gambling activities. However, the microphone also produced a number of minor statements involving [redacted] Under the so-called "Ramsey Clark definition," this amounted to "bedroom gossip" and would be damaging if brought before the public.

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson
Re: [redacted] versus United States

[redacted] initially brought suits in civil court for $100,000 against several FBI Agents and $100,000 against the Federal Government. The suit against the Agents was dropped. The suit against the Federal Government has been going on for some time and as a result the plaintiff's attorneys have indicated a willingness to settle for $5,000 to $10,000 total damages. On 2/13/69 arguments on motions are scheduled to begin in United States District Court in Miami, Florida.

In the conference in Deputy Attorney General Kleindeinst's office, Ruckelhaus briefed Kleindeinst regarding the situation. Ruckelhaus recommended immediate settlement for $7,500, stating that this was a "nuisance" settlement. He added it would cost the Federal Government at least $75,000 to $100,000 to try the case in court and that it would be injurious to the Department and to the FBI for all of the information in the microphone logs to be brought out before the court and the public.

Kleindeinst told me that in his opinion the public climate at the present time concerning usage of electronic devices in the fight against crime, espionage, and internal security was a healthy one. He stated he definitely did not want any damaging publicity to the FBI or to the Department regarding usage of such devices at this time. He stated he wanted to go on record indicating that the FBI should be protected at all times and that the principal reason for asking me to attend the conference was to obtain our views as to what should be done in this matter.

I told Kleindeinst there were pros and cons with respect to this case. I stated insofar as the affirmative side favoring settlement, there were several things to be taken into consideration. First, I agreed with Ruckelhaus that $7,500 was peanuts and obviously a "nuisance" settlement. Secondly, settlement would perhaps prevent information contained in the microphone logs, particularly the "bedroom gossip" type of information, from coming before the public.

Thirdly, settlement would prevent exposure of certain sources which had aided greatly in the placing of this particular microphone. I told him the negative side of the coin was as follows: First and foremost, the danger of a precedent being established regarding settlement of cases of this nature. I stated this argument was somewhat weak inasmuch as the principal hoodlums involved in the exposure of 22 electronic devices to date by the Department obviously did not desire that information concerning their hoodlum activities be made known either to the public or to their associates in the underworld. Consequently, it was doubtful that many or any additional suits would be brought as a result of the settlement of the [redacted] case. Secondly, it of course goes against the grain and appears to be undesirable to ever at any time pay off the enemy for what we know in our own minds was proper action, i.e. attempts to obtain intelligence against hoodlums.

I made it quite clear to the Deputy Attorney General that of course in the final analysis a decision to settle or not to settle was the Department's decision. I stated it was hoped the Department would keep the FBI constantly advised, particularly if any publicity concerning this matter was anticipated. I told Kleindeinst that under no circumstances should [redacted] issue a press release regarding the settlement, if effected. Kleindeinst replied he would tell [redacted] to keep his mouth shut. He then instructed Ruckelhaus to stipulate to the Federal Court in Miami that although a settlement of $7,500 should be made, it was hoped that the Federal Judge trying the case would nevertheless put the case in a pending inactive status so that no publicity would ensue. In other words, there will be no open court record concerning the settlement. The case will be merely kept in a pending inactive status for several years and then quietly dropped from the books by making a notation that the case was dismissed with prejudice against the plaintiff [redacted] after settlement. Ruckelhaus told Kleindeinst he would be guided accordingly.

Re: [redacted] versus United States

Although the Department representatives were not advised of these facts, it is strongly believed this is one case where the FBI would have far more to gain through settlement, by the Department, than fighting this case in civil court. [redacted] Under no circumstances could we afford to [redacted] Furthermore, the information to be exposed in the course of a civil suit, in the hands of a clever defense attorney, particularly the facts concerning conversation regarding [redacted] would give the civil rights extremists a picnic for some time to come.

BACKGROUND

The following new developments were received in connection with the civil suit involving [redacted] who is suing the Government for $100,000 for invasion of privacy as a result of the microphone installation which we had on [redacted] gambler Frank "Lefty" Rosenthal, in 1964. The original installation was made under the general Department authorization and was subsequently renewed with the specific authorization of Attorney General Nicholas deB. Katzenbach.

CURRENT DEVELOPMENTS

Carl Eardley, Deputy Assistant to the Assistant Attorney General, Civil Division, telephonically contacted me at 11:50 a.m. at which time he advised that Department attorneys made an offer to settle this case with [redacted] for around $10,000. Her attorneys recommended that she accept the Government's offer of $10,000; however, she refused and said she wants $25,000 to settle this case.

Eardley advised that the Department feels this is "highway robbery" and that they should not accede to her request. They desired to know what the Bureau's views were in this regard. He advised that the microphone logs have to go to the court at 2:00 p.m. today at which time a protective order would undoubtedly be placed around them and the case subsequently litigated. He advised that he would like a prompt answer as to the Bureau's thoughts in this matter.

Re: FRANK LANG ROSENTHAL

On March 19, 1969, the Records Section of the Dade County, Florida, Circuit Court Clerk's Office, was contacted regarding Case #66C-7414, and a certified copy (original and four) of same was made available, which is attached hereto.

On March 19, 1969, an original and four copies of Case #67-6790-A was made available, and attached hereto, by the Metropolitan Dade County Criminal Court of Record, Eleventh Judicial District. According to the Clerk's Office, Metropolitan Dade County Criminal Court of Record, FRANK ROSENTHAL registered on November 17, 1964, as a convicted felon in Dade County. However, there is no record of any conviction regarding this matter.

Records of the Dade County Public Safety Department, Miami, are currently being checked in an effort to obtain a copy of the registration form regarding ROSENTHAL's registering as a felon on November 17, 1964.

Inquiry has been made pertaining to the delivery of either the Miami Herald or Miami News newspapers to the residence of [redacted] from June, 1960, through June, 1966, and whether delivery was made to the residence of FRANK ROSENTHAL from June, 1960, through June, 1966. Due to the lack of records kept by either the Herald or News regarding carriers and subscribers, there is no information available to verify if [redacted] or ROSENTHAL received newspapers during this period. Also, the Herald advised that due to the rapid turnover of news carriers there are no records kept concerning news carriers for the above period.

b6

Records of the North Miami, Florida, Police Department were reviewed on March 25, 1969, and indicated no record regarding [redacted] or [redacted] These same records reflect two complaints filed in January, 1969, by

SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

May 29, 1969

In connection with the $100,000 Civil suit filed against the government by [redacted] of nationally known gambler, Frank "lefty" Rosenthal, for invasion of privacy based on a Department authorized microphone installation we had on [redacted] b6 b7C Depositions were taken from agent personnel involved in the installation by plaintiff's counsel. One agent's deposition (attached) was not concluded since to answer certain questions concerning the technical aspects of the equipment used would jeopardize our national security. The plaintiff has moved to compel answers to questions asked of this Agent. The Department in order to defend against this effort to compel testimony has forwarded draft of an affidavit detailing the interest of national security involved, and requests the identity and position of Bureau official who will execute it.

The microphone involved was a [redacted] located [redacted] of Rosenthal's apartment. b7E

Inasmuch as the questions involved concern technical aspects of the equipment involved and the procedures utilized in the installation of the microphone, it is felt that an official of the Laboratory be designated as the individual to execute the affidavit detailing the interest of national security involved.

WPB:ojs

SEE ADDENDUM ATTACHED.

ADDENDUM: Laboratory Division, [redacted] mcc 6/2/69 b6 b7C

The Laboratory Division agrees with the observations of the Special Investigative Division that, inasmuch as the affidavit is concerned with the technical aspects of the equipment involved, the affidavit should be executed by an official of the Laboratory.

Since the affidavit, as drafted, requires that the affiant have personal knowledge of the equipment and procedures utilized by the FBI in microphone surveillances, SA [redacted] Radio Engineering Section, FBI Laboratory, is a properly qualified official who should execute the affidavit.

It is suggested that in Paragraph #3, page 2 of the proposed affidavit the word "in" be substituted for the word "throughout" to eliminate the possibility of misconception arising as to the number and location of microphone surveillances currently in operation. b6 b7C

INFORMANT CONTACTS

The following information furnished by [redacted] is being set forth on the administrative pages in view of the caution by the New Orleans Office that this information is not for dissemination outside the Bureau: b7D

Informant advised on 8/12/69, he had determined from a usually reliable source that subject was going to open a betting room in Las Vegas. Subject supposedly is to be financially backed in this venture [redacted]

During September, 1969, [redacted] advised the subject was involved in the operation of his new sports book in Las Vegas. Informant stated that in connection with the Kansas State - Baylor College football game played 9/20/69, that early that week subject bet heavily on Kansas State. The game opened in the New Orleans area with Baylor -4. As a result of subject's bet on Kansas State, [redacted] b7D [redacted] they were being very cautious handling that gambling action on teams that subject was betting heavily early in the season.

In November, 1969, [redacted] furnished the following information:

In connection with the Houston - Oklahoma State college football game played 9/27/69 in Houston, Houston started off a 14 point favorite in the New Orleans area. About the middle of the week subject made a very heavy bet on Houston and continued to bet Houston during the week up until game time. As a result of subject's heavy bets, by game time Houston was a 21 point favorite in the New Orleans area. It was noted that Oklahoma State beat Houston by a large margin.

The following Saturday, 10/4/69, and 10/18/69, subject again bet heavily on college games. On the 10/4/69 wagers by subject he bet six college games and lost five of the bets. In connection with his bets on 10/18/69, subject also lost the majority of his bets.

In view of subject's poor betting record on football, informant does not feel that subject is obtaining any good betting intelligence information and obviously [redacted] does not involve the subject. Informant stated further that the gambling industry feels that subject's backers have told him to cease betting on football games and to pay full attention to operating his sports book in Las Vegas. Informant stated that over the previous two weekends subject had not been making any wagers on college football games to the informant's knowledge. b7D

The following informants who are knowledgeable regarding the sports wagering in Las Vegas, Nevada, were contacted regarding subject with negative results:

Enclosed for Las Vegas is a copy of the finding in fact and recommended order regarding ROSENTHAL's application for a horse owner's license in the State of Florida and a copy of Clark County, Nevada, Sheriff RALPH LAMB's affidavit submitted on behalf of ROSENTHAL.

ROSENTHAL was afforded a hearing on February 9, 1977, before a hearing officer regarding his application for licensing as a race horse owner in the State of Florida. On March 23, 1977, the hearing officer recommended that ROSENTHAL's application for an occupational license as a race horse owner in Florida be denied. The hearing officer found that ROSENTHAL failed to clearly show that he possessed the necessary qualifications as to integrity required by a licensee of the State of Florida.

[redacted] Florida Department of Business Regulation, Division of Pari-Mutuel Wagering, provided on April 18, 1977, the enclosed documents. [redacted] advised that as of April 18, 1977, ROSENTHAL had not filed a notice of appeal of the hearing officer's decision. b6 b7C
